

Article Details

October 10, 2010

» Top 10 Reasons to Come to CAIR's Banquet and Critical Skills Training

 RSS  Email  Print

Top 10 Reasons to Come to CAIR's Banquet and Critical Skills Training

Posted 10/6/2010 12:29:00 PM

Privacy by  SafeSubscribeSM

CAIR is Zakat-eligible

 ADD THIS

 Buzz up! vote now

Issues

Top 10 Reasons to Come to CAIR's Banquet and Critical Skills Training

10 You want to get the real story behind the Park51 controversy.

You want to know how to shape the news, not just respond to it. 9

8 Extremists like Pamela Geller should not be the ones talking about Islam on TV.

 Watch the video

You want to network with activists and leaders from across the country and share their vision for the Muslim community. 7

6 Bigots getting you down? Here's your chance to laugh at a serious situation with Muslim comedian Mo Amer.

You want to know what to do if a coworker harasses you because of your faith. 5

4 You will get training from top professionals for a fraction of the standard cost of such seminars.

You want to learn how to respond to a tough question from Bill O'Reilly. 3

 Watch the video

2 If another Terry Jones arrives on the scene, we should all know how to respond.

You're tired of seeing Islam defamed and want to do something about it. #1

Whether you're already an activist or just want to help out, this is the place to start. Strengthen our community by strengthening your skills.

After the critical skills training, CAIR will hold its annual banquet, "Defining Our Faith, Defending Our Rights," featuring Dr. Tariq Ramadan, noted journalist Helen Thomas and Mo Amer of the "Allah Made Me Funny" comedy tour.

We're looking forward to a day of practical training and an evening of celebrating our community. Please join us on Saturday, October 9, by making your reservations today.

You have only 3 days left to register for CAIR's banquet and conference. Tickets will not be available at the door so be sure to reserve your seat now.

The conference will include training sessions for:

- « public speaking
- « on-camera interviews
- « using social media
- « political engagement
- « challenging Islamophobia
- « knowing your legal rights with law enforcement agencies.

REGISTER NOW!

Defining Our Faith, Defending Our Rights

Return

Copyright © 2010, Council on American-Islamic Relations (CAIR). All rights reserved. CAIR® is a registered trademark. CAIR is a not-for-profit organization recognized as tax-exempt under U.S. Internal Revenue Code section 501(c)(3).

Terms of Use | Privacy Policy